

About us

Who we are

Did you know...?

Our strategy

Our values

Our history

Our members

Our volunteers

Charitable aims

Annual reports

Structure and representation

- Royal Charter and Byelaws
- Council
- Our committees
- Board of Trustees
- SMT
- Our Chief Executive

Regulating our profession

Who we work with

Structure and representation

The IOSH logo

Careers at IOSH

Contact us

Home Page > About us > Who we are > Structure and representation

Structure and representation

IOSH is represented by its Council, Board of Trustees and a network of committees.

Over the past five years all of us at IOSH – members and staff – have been working through a number of changes that have helped us work better together. We've made those changes so we can offer the best levels of service to our rapidly growing membership, and to the health and safety profession as a whole.

The latest changes are to our committee structure. Some of our committees will soon be dissolved and new committees, Member Advisory Panels and Working Parties will be created. Have a look at the new structure (PDF 221 kb).

What happens next?

We aim to have all the changes in place before our AGM in November 2010. For those committees that are being dissolved, final meetings will take place between May and July. The new Professional Ethics Committee will hold its first meeting in September.

To find out more about the current structure, click on the buttons below.

RSS feeds Print this page Add This Page To MyLinks

Contact the media team

Rail industry conference 2010

twitter

IOSH on twitter

